|      Title        |                                          Description                                |
+-------------------+-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------+
| An unusual sighting |                      As the preparations come to an end, and The Fray draws near each day,                      |
|                   |              our newly established team has started work on refactoring the new CMS application for the competition. |
|                   |                   However, after some time we noticed that a lot of our work mysteriously has been disappearing!    |
|                   |                      We managed to extract the SSH Logs and the Bash History from our dev server in question.      |
|                   |                 The faction that manages to uncover the perpetrator will have a massive bonus come the competition! |
|                   |                                                                                                                |
|                   |                                          Note: Operating Hours of Korp: 0900 - 1900                            |
